

Hyatt officially headed to Riverview

David Woodfill, Tribune

January 10, 2008

Mesa Riverview developers announced Thursday that they inked a deal to build the city's first-ever Hyatt-brand hotel within the project at Dobson Road and Loop 202.

Officials with Phoenix-based De Rito Partners said the agreement to build a Hyatt Place was finalized Wednesday, seven months after it confirmed it was in talks with the hotelier.

According to Global Hyatt Corporation's Web site, Hyatt Place hotels feature guestrooms with 42-inch high definition televisions, spacious sofa-sleepers and complimentary high speed internet access.

The project will be Mesa's first Hyatt-brand hotel.