

SILENT INTENTIONS

JANUARY 25, 2008

You Light Up My Life

Duane bought me a beautiful "lamp" from the Himalayan Salt Crystal Lamp store in the new Mesa Riverview shopping center. Of course I had to look at each one before making the decision of which one to get! I did NOT touch each one though, and it only took me 30 minutes to decide. Really. This blogspot does some strange things with spacing, so I had to delete the information about these lamps. You'll have to check the web on your own.....

It was really hard to photograph, but you get the idea. The other thing the salesman mentioned was the benefit of ingesting the salt and minerals. They sell other products of this salt that are supposed to contain 84 minerals. He told Duane you could get the same benefit by licking the lamp once a day. YES, licking it! Tastes just like salt. Moooooo. Thank you Honey! I LOVE IT!!!

